

Public Meetings Consultation Programme

Musselburgh Flood Protection has been developed through a consultative framework since its inception and the Project Team are eager to continue this engagement as the Scheme progresses. Consultation with local residents, statutory stakeholders, landowners, and business owners is invaluable and will ensure the design of the Scheme meets the aspirations of the town.

The Scheme is on target to present the finalised Outline Design to Council in January 2024. As such, 2023 will be another big year for consultation with the town. The Project Team will be returning to consult with Local Area Consultation groups as in Autumn 2021. These events will be held the Brunton Esk Rooms. The Scheme's next major consultation event, Public Exhibition No.2, will take place over several days in June at the Brunton Theatre. During this event, we will present to the town the initial Outline Design to gather their feedback.

This Public Meeting Consultation Programme - First Half of 2023 has been designed to keep the community up to date with the upcoming consultation events to ensure everyone has the chance to input into the design of the Scheme.

Public Exhibition 2

The Brunton Theatre

This is the Scheme's second major, formal public consultation event and will be held to present the initial Outline Design to a wide audience and gather their feedback. The Project Team will then collect the town's inputs and compile a report. Work will then begin to revise the Outline Design based on this feedback.
